

GRAND JURY ACTION EMBITTERS MAYOR

His Issues Statement Severely
Critiquing Raid on His Office.

FEARS FOR CITY'S NAME

Says Attack on Him Is Inspired by Personal Prejudices.

Mayor Hylan in a statement last night charges there is an "underground wire" between the Grand Jury room and the newspaper offices and that it is being used to discredit him through the intimation that a "semi-crime" has been discovered since the Mayor's private papers were submitted to the Grand Jury.

"It is a dirty bird that fouls its own nest," says the Mayor, his deduction being that the fair name of the city of New York is being assailed through attacks on his office.

"The spectacle of certain Grand Jurymen of undoubted personal prejudices and animosities," says the Mayor, "pawing over the private papers of the Mayor of New York, seeking eagerly to unearth some grizzly morsel of public or private scandal out of the correspondence of the Mayor, is a shameful prostitution of the great power of the Grand Jury, suggests to my mind a greater contempt for the rights of the community and a greater menace to society than any crime of any individual could possibly contain. The thing was untimely, un-American and unlawful."

The newspapers during the last week have printed stories to the effect that the Grand Jury is conducting a general investigation into the affairs of the city government, the Police Department, vice, gambling and graft.

How Stories Originated.

These stories, which never have been denied, had their origin in the summoning before the Grand Jury of Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith, who was in charge of vice raids independent of the police and who is believed to have submitted to the Grand Jury the "Police Blue Book," which, he alleges, contains the names of persons who have been guilty of graft.

The Grand Jury itself in asking Gov. Smith that District Attorney Swann be supplied by a special prosecutor asserted that it had discovered evidence of an "overhanging crime" following its probe into the Mayor's charges that the "interlocking" and its employees had conspired to force an eight cent fare through a rapid transit strike.

Aside from the Mayor's charge, which developed on Saturday that members of the Grand Jury were disturbed because they believed their private telephone wires had been tapped, a careful inspection of the Grand Jury room was made on Saturday to make sure that no photograph was there concealed. It was stated that the Grand Jury would take up today the matter of persons who had been sprung upon them and shadowing them since the later phase of their inquiry developed.

The Mayor, who isjournaing at Atlantic City, neither denies nor admits that he is the person most stoned against. His statement said:

"Some mysterious agency that seems to be a sort of underground wire, between the Grand Jury room and the newspaper offices is working overtime to foster the impression that something 'semi-crime' was disclosed by the inspection of my personal correspondence in the Grand Jury room."

See His Name Assailed.

"As Mayor and as a citizen I object to the Grand Jury room being turned into an anonymous rumor factory, the expense of my good name and the public funds. It is grossly unfair to me, but I am used to that sort of thing."

"The wrong done to New York is in the attempt to befoul the Mayor's office before all the world without candor without justice and without civic pride. It is a dirty bird that fouls its own nest."

There is also another and a more serious side to this miserable affair, and some time in the future when my own humble personality may be regarded as quite immaterial I hope for an awakening of the dormant public spirit of those who now see no wrong possible in any effort to maliciously discredit John F. Hylan.

CHINA SOCIETY FOR OPEN DOOR

Sends Resolutions on Shantung to Members of Senate.

A resolution to the peace treaty retaining the United States' right to the Shantung clauses has been drawn by the China Society of America and forwarded to members of the Senate by Andrew B. Humphrey, director of the society. It is insisted that the open door policy of trade with China established in John Hay's time be continued by the United States. It is also held that the German treaty rights formerly obtained in China and are being the jurisdiction of the peace conference.

The proposal would have the Senate reserve to the Federal Government "the right to continue to maintain in the policy which it has heretofore observed and supported, of preserving the territorial integrity of China and equality of opportunity for commerce of all nations therein."

MAN KILLED BY MOTOR CAR

Driver Speeds Away After Accident at Staten Island.

While the family of Gene Pouty, living at 113 West Sixteenth street, Manhattan, were walking through New Dorp Lane, Staten Island, about 8 o'clock last night, they were run into by a motor automobile. Pouty was killed.

There were in the party Pouty, his wife, two sons and two daughters. The sons were with Pouty in the rear and all were walking in the roadway, as the street has no sidewalks. Andrew Pouty, 21, and Louis 14, were severely injured when thrown to the side of the road. They were removed to the Staten Island Hospital.

The car was described as having a long body fitted with two benches, one on each side. The driver did not stop when the accident happened but put on speed and soon disappeared.

LIEUT.-GOV. WALKER URGED FOR SENATE

His Backers Are Counting on Women's Vote.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.
BROOKLYN, Nov. 9.—Lieut.-Gov. Harry C. Walker is being urged forward as a candidate for the United States Senate in the next Democratic primaries by the same friends who started his campaign for the Governorship two years ago. These friends have formed the opinion that Gov. Smith will not be a candidate for the Senate, but will seek another term at Albany. They therefore believe that the way has been cleared for Mr. Walker's candidacy.

The promoters of the campaign are counting on the women's vote. Mr. Walker has always been a consistent advocate of "women's suffrage." As president of the Senate he gained a considerable following and his close association with William W. Farley, chairman of the Democratic State committee, will, it is declared, secure the requisite political backing for his race.

The chief reason put forth for his eligibility, however, is the large up-State vote which he polled when running with Gov. Smith.

G. O. P. PLANS TO PASS WELFARE REFORMS

Legislators Will Not Wait for Gov. Smith to Suggest Defeated Measures.

The strengthening of the Republican majority in the State Legislature by the elections should be regarded in particular as the rejection by the voters of Gov. Smith's welfare bills, according to the Republican State committee. The committee does not contend, however, that the measures should not be carefully considered at the coming session. It interprets their rejection largely as an indication that the voters did not understand the measures proposed in haste and urged with vehemence.

In the larger aspect the returns should be read as the commission of a fresh mandate to the Republican party for the passage of more than a thousand bills. In its weekly summary of the political situation the committee hails the elections as the favorable beginning of the 1920 national campaign.

Republican leaders said yesterday that it was probable the strengthened majority in the State Legislature would prepare its own welfare bills this session, without waiting for Gov. Smith to resubmit his measures for health insurance, minimum wage and other reforms. The State committee pointed yesterday to the law against night work by women on railroads which threw out of employment more than a thousand women profitably and suitably engaged in work in the Manhattan and Brooklyn rapid transit lines as a fine example of ill devised measures adopted under the pressure of a misguided spirit of reform.

Conferences are expected to be held during the coming six weeks by members of the Legislature from industrial districts, both in the city and up-State, at which the need of industrial legislation will be canvassed and steps taken to develop a programme which the Republican majority can advocate as safe and sound.

amine Lewis's Wife in Paris.

CLOTHING MEN WILL BARE UNION GRAFT

Appear To-day Before Chicago
Prosecutor to Tell of Amalgamated Holdup.

NATIONWIDE PLOT SEEN

Raid Bared Many Sorts of Violence to Increase Price of Garments.

Special Despatch to THE SUN.
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Further light on the methods of the officials of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America will be shed to-morrow by twelve prominent clothing manufacturers who have been summoned to appear in the State Attorney's office. Subpoenas have been issued for twelve others who will be called later.

According to Assistant State Attorney Nicholas Michals, five of the manufacturers subpoenaed received anonymous threats on their lives since the raid on union headquarters by the State Attorney last Friday. Assistant State Attorneys Michals, Carroll and Ohlsen were busy all day ascertaining and studying the vast correspondence seized.

"I expect to examine between forty and fifty Chicago clothing men before presenting the case to the Grand Jury," Michals said.

"Three men of the Chicago headquarters constitute the almighty to the 32,000 members here and are among the principals for whom indictments will be asked. They are Sam Levine, general manager; Frank Rosenblum, general organizer; and Sam Riseman, assistant general organizer.

Nationwide Plot.

"The examination of the files has revealed a nationwide plot to increase the price of clothing, and thus the wages of the workers, by destruction of material, burglary and even the poisoning of witnesses who were to throw incriminating evidence against the union.

"I am investigating a report from a reliable source that the Chicago office of the union ordered that the non-union girl in Cincinnati, into whose eyes red pepper was thrown by a woman slugging the union, be poisoned before she is sufficiently recovered to testify."

One Chicago manufacturer after the union closed his place of business was forced by the union board to pay a fine of $1,000 in addition to granting increased wages before he was permitted to resume business. He was compelled to pay $2 additional to the workers for each coat turned out of the factory. This caused an unnecessary expenditure of $2,000 a week. They also demanded and obtained from many employers in various cities 5 per cent. of their net earnings. This 5 per cent. went to the union to be used, as they said, in case of unemployment. In other words, they were prepared to fight the employers with the employers' money in case of strikes.

Clothing Cost Explained.

Fred Levy, president of the national association of retail clothing stores, to-day said the cause for the high cost of men's clothing was the high pay to the workers and the cost of the materials.

"The employers are not complaining of the high pay," he said. "Wages, however, have been increased 175 per cent. since the beginning of the war, but productivity has fallen below normal due to the drastic decrease in working hours demanded by the workers. Formerly they worked fifty-four hours a week, now it is a forty-four hour week, and in New York there are demands for a forty hour week, not to mention other substantial pay increases."

URGES SAILORS TO PREACH.

Dr. Fiedick Tells Them to Become Missionaries.

Sailors as gospel carriers was the theme of Dr. Harry Emerson Fiedick, pastor of the Old First Presbyterian Church, at the fourth annual sailors' day service last evening. Old salts from Sailors' Snug Harbor, brightlight chaps from the river front, ship's officers and their wives about 1,000 all told of various nationalities heard the address.

Dr. Fiedick said he wanted the sailors who go out from this port under the American ensign to be missionaries as were their early brothers in the craft of the Roman Empire.

"It is you men who will sail to the far ports who should carry the highest standard of Christian civilization," he said. "You have a rare privilege. In the early years of Christianity there was a wide fraternity among sailors and whenever they met they spread the word along. You men have the power to foster the cause."

He urged the sailors to be missionaries, to be the light of the world, to be the shining representatives of the word of God.

BUS CO. WANTS SUGGESTIONS.

Prizes Aggregating $250 Offered for Good Ideas.

The Fifth Avenue Coach Company, which operates the green buses in River side Drive and Fifth avenue, wants to give away money. It has offered cash prizes aggregating $250 for the twelve best suggestions which would enable the company to improve its service.

To date the company has little to complain of John A. Ritchie, its president, states in the matter of the courtesy record of conductors and drivers, and offers these figures based on investigation:

Courteous under all circumstances, 98 per cent.
Irritable under great provocation, 1 1/2 per cent.
Irritable under slight provocation, 1/4 per cent.

The idea is to get suggestions that will enable the company to wipe out the bad 2 per cent. and show a clean 100 per cent. record. The first prize is $100; the second, $50; the third, $25, and so on down to five prizes of $5 apiece. The competition closes on December 20 in plenty of time for the winners to enjoy Christmas money.

$625,000 for Steel Strikers Here.

A final but unofficial count of the money contributed to the steel strikers by New York labor unions in Madison Square Garden on Saturday night shows:

$655,000 in cash and promises. Of this $405,000 was pledged by three unions; the balance, $250,000, was in cash and certified checks. Ernest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, said yesterday that union labor of New York would probably subscribe more than the $2,000,000 that steel strikers asked of them.

TWENTY PER CENT. OF DRUG CLERKS GO BACK

Chain Stores and Larger Pharmacies Stores Hold Out.

Twenty per cent. of the striking drug clerks are back at work under union conditions and the strikers have been augmented 10 per cent. by non-union men who have joined their ranks, according to assertions yesterday at strike headquarters, 62 Park Row. Drugstore sections have signed agreements in a body, it was stated, while many individual proprietors have met the demands in The Bronx.

Robert S. Lehman, speaking for the New York Pharmaceutical Conference, whose members include most of the independent stores in Manhattan, said the conference is holding out against the union and its members are experiencing no great inconvenience. Some individual druggists, not members of the conference, have signed the strikers, he said. Chain stores were said to be operating under virtually normal conditions.

RED CROSS TO PUSH ITS FIRST AID PLANS

Gen. Dyer Gives Strong Reason for New Yorkers to Join on Third Roll Call.

The prediction that the Red Cross will take the lead in all future accident prevention work was made yesterday by Major-Gen. John F. O'Ryan and Brig.-Gen. George R. Dyer of the Metropolitan Committee of the third roll call. The Red Cross should be preeminent in a popular educational campaign to prevent avoidable accidents through its extensive membership, declared Gen. Dyer.

"A few years ago," he said, "it was a common occurrence for men to die of injuries in factories, mines and other industrial plants because of a lack of first aid treatment at the time when the accident occurred. The Red Cross plans to spread the gospel of first aid by means of meetings in factories, workrooms and other industrial centres."

"In time of peace accidents have cost 100,000 lives annually, and those injured in accidents, some of them crippled for life, have exceeded the dead by tens of thousands. Five times as many persons are killed as are injured to so great an extent that they can no longer earn their living without reduction."

"We are going after the inexcusable cause," said Gen. Dyer. "I am positive that if New Yorkers knew how comprehensive in this respect are the plans of the Red Cross they would gladly become members of their organization."

Operation means the generation of a spirit of carelessness in our own community that will have a telling effect in the saving of life and property."

CLERK FAILS IN HUNGARY.

Efforts to Form Coalition Government Come to Naught.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Saturday, Nov. 8.—The Hungarian political situation remains obscure. The efforts of Sir George Clerk, the British commissioner, to form a coalition Government have not progressed to the stage of the constitution of the cabinet of affairs are contradictory, but generally agree that Premier Friedrich will remain in whatever ministry is formed. The army does not intend to meddle in military dictatorship, but on the contrary submits to the coalition Government in the process of formation.

The issuance of a monarchist statement that no Hapsburgs need apply to be members of the cabinet of the reports that Prince Otto would become king, with a regency council, in the event of a restoration of the monarchy.

Hurt at 11th Avenue Crossing.

John Jesulatos, 163 Perry street, motorman and M. Anna Lieberman, 1608 Madison street, were injured when a freight train on the New York Central Railroad yesterday afternoon at Thirty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue.

James Sheridan, signalman, had waved for the freight train to pass and the engine and two cars had crossed the surface car tracks when the crash occurred. The latter was thrown off the railroad tracks and the front platform was demolished.

Jesulatos, who was taken to the French Hospital, is not expected to recover. The young woman suffered lacerations of the scalp. John McNulty, railroad yardmaster, says the motorman lost control of the car.

SAYS ITALIANS FOUGHT NOBLY.

Austrian Chief of Staff Admits His Army Broke Down.

By the Associated Press.
VIENNA, Nov. 9.—Major-Gen. Lutz von Straussburg, who was Chief of Staff of the Austro-Hungarian army, concluded to-day his testimony before the commission investigating war delinquencies. He confirmed his previous testimony that nothing could be done to prevent the breaking down of the Austrians on the Italian front just before the armistice, which resulted in the capture by the Italians of several hundred thousand Austrians.

He said the Italians were above reproach from a military viewpoint in their procedure during the twenty-four hours preceding the armistice.

by 1,300 Votes.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 9.—Returns from fifteen scattered precincts reporting to-day, increased 1,300 the lead by which J. W. Harreld, Republican, apparently was elected to Congress in the Fifth district yesterday over Claude Weaver, Democrat.

Of the total of 265 precincts in the district 251 have been heard from. The missing precincts are small country boxes which cannot affect the result materially, it is believed.

SERVICES HELD FOR WAR'S DEAD HEROES

Memorials in Churches and in Armories on Anniversary of Armistice Signing.

ALL CREEDS PAY TRIBUTE

Father Duffy Sees the End of All Small Minded Religious Bigotry.

Services in observance of the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice were held yesterday in churches and armories. Exercises planned especially for veterans of the great war were held in the Seventy-first and Seventy-second armories in Manhattan and in the Twenty-third Regiment Armory in Brooklyn. Appeals for support of the Red Cross rolls were made a part of all the services.

The exercises at the Seventy-second Armory comprised a non-sectarian programme in honor of the achievements of the Seventy-seventh Division. The armory was filled with an audience that was notable for the number of men in army uniforms.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler gave the tribute of the civilians of New York to the division. The Rev. William T. Manning gave the invocation. Other speakers were Archbishop Hayes, Rabbi Joseph Silverman and the Rev. James J. Howard. The programme was arranged to last for the 16th Infantry, the Rev. Paul D. Moody, formerly chaplain of the General Headquarters, A. E. F., and Chaplain Charles B. Sovell of the Seventy-first Infantry, National Guard of New York.

Father Duffy said that the present is not the time to be doubtful about the future of the United States. He said that the men who fought in France were not deserters. It was those who were not in the army who were deserters.

"As a man," he said, "I hate despondency. I have seen men go to certain death with smiles on their faces. They were not deserters. It was those who were not in the army who were deserters."

"The war has worked one great change. It has caused us in great part to cast behind us the old religious bigotry that was the bane of our political system. All the sects did magnificent work in the war. One did as well as another."

"I can safely say that there were no religious, social or color lines in the army. The colored boys of the Fifteenth Infantry proved that there was no color line in patriotism and no color line in bravery."

For Brooklyn's Dead Vets.

An armistice memorial service for the National Guardsmen of Brooklyn who fell in the war was held in the afternoon in the Twenty-third Regiment Armory in Bedford avenue. The armory was crowded. Among those present were the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Congregational Church, who was chaplain of the Fifty-ninth Regiment, Coast Artillery, and those who participated in the exercises were the Rev. Frank I. Hartsom, who served in France as chaplain of the Tenth Infantry; the Rev. Frank Townsend, chaplain of the Twenty-third Regiment; the Rev. John L. Belford, chaplain of the Forty-seventh Regiment; the Rev. S. Edward Young, chaplain of the Nineteenth Regiment, and the Rev. S. Harper, formerly chaplain of the 105th Field Artillery.

The Twenty-third Regiment band played Chopin's funeral march. A bugler sounded taps.

PACKING PLANTS TO REOPEN.

With Striking Butchers.

M. S. Mandel of Stern & Sons, Inc., announcing the packing plants closed down by the butchers' strike, stated yesterday that there is a probability the plants may resume operation by the end of this week.

No negotiations with the strikers have been opened, he said, but a number of men have asked for their old jobs. Those men have not been rehired yet, he said.

PRESIDENT VETOED PUBLICITY, HE SAYS

Clemenceau Adviser Bares
His Political Secrets.

By a Staff Correspondent of THE SUN.

Copyright, 1919, all rights reserved.
Paris, Nov. 9.—Important political secrets of Premier Clemenceau were disclosed yesterday to the editors of Bordeaux by Georges Mandel, Clemenceau's right hand man and chief of his official family. Among other things Mandel declared positively that Premier Clemenceau should be the beginning of the peace negotiations had favored giving full accounts of the proceedings to the French Parliament and that it was President Wilson, supported by Premier Lloyd George, who prevented this course.

Mandel revealed further that former Premier Painleve, at the moment of abandoning power, had sought to open peace negotiations with Germany and that Aristide Briand, when he was Premier, wanted to discuss peace with Austria and for that purpose proposed to send the Duke of Dalmatou to Spain as Ambassador, so as to engage in tentative efforts there for peace.

It was also stated by Mandel that he was in a position to affirm that Premier Clemenceau is not to retire from public life and he hinted that the "Tiger" was looking for a high place where he could continue in the service of his country. This would seem to confirm the impression that Clemenceau desires to be President of the republic.

ADMIRAL JELICOE REACHES VICTORIA

British Sea Leader Denies Mapping Far East Plan.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 9.—Admiral Vice-Commodore Jellicoe of Scapa, who left England last February on a tour of the British Empire, arrived in Esquimaut harbor yesterday aboard the battle cruiser New Zealand, after having visited India and Australia and having touched at Honolulu.

The Admiral to-day denied that while in Australia he had mapped out in detail a plan for naval cooperation between Great Britain and the Dominions in the Far East.

He said he had been invited by officials of various dominions to consult with them on the question of naval defense, but he had declined to do so, his purpose to lay down any hard and fast rule whereby that would be accomplished. He added it would be important on his part to attempt to say what he thought the measure of naval aid to be given to the British Empire.
